OPPORTUNITY WINNERS

The camera man dropped into a rehearsal for the radio show, Opportunity Winners (heard Monday nights at 9:00 p.m. CDT, 8:00 p.m. MDT, on the CBC Dominion network).

and caught the three stars of the show as they listened to some words of advice from conductor-emcee John Adaskin. That's William B. Williams on the left, a baritone from Hamilton; next is Adaskin; and the girls are Angela Antonelli (left), a coloratura soprano from Guelph, Ontario; and Sylvia Grant, a mezzo-soprano from Calgary. All three are studying at the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto. They got their chance to star in a network show of their own by winning first place in the three Opportunity Knocka series broadcast last winter. Starting on August 22nd they'll be featured with Adaskin and the Opportunity Winners orchestra in the

U.S. Farm Population Trend
The percentage of people in the United States living on farms decreased from 40 per cent in 1900 to 16 per cent in 1950.

Some economists contend that this trend gives a better assurance of better living in peace times, and better chance for survival in war, as more labor can be diverted to the manufacturing industry.

Two Airmen
Die In Plane
On Busy Road

FIFTY CANADIAN CO-EDS TAKE R.C.A.F. SUMMER COURSE—At the R.C.A.F. station at London, Ont., 50 co-eds from four Canadian universities are taking a summer course which has them studying world affairs, air force law and other academic subjects and acquainting them with R.C.A.F. equipment. Markham is one of the favorite courses of the training and their instructors admit the students are pretty good. L-R to right, Sylvia Novak, University of British Columbia, Sandy James, McGill, and Kay Stritt, Toronto. The summer course is a new venture for the R.C.A.F.—Central Press Canadian.

TWO AIRMEN DIE AS FLAMES PREVENT RESCUE—On a busy roadway at Malton, Ont., the framework of a Cessna airplane moulders after it crashed and burned shortly after take-off. Two men, Cy Fairhurst and Robert Tomlin, were killed. Observers said the plane appeared to have something hanging from the engine and the pilot had attempted to turn back to the airport to land when a gust of wind pushed the plane into hydro poles. Within seconds the plane was surrounded by people who could not penetrate the flames.—Central Press Canadian.

CANADIAN U.S. NAVIES MANOEUVRE OFF WEST COAST—Two visiting United States navy destroyer escorts, from Seattle, Wash., joined with units of the Royal Canadian navy's Pacific Command to give the thousands who crowded the waterfront of Beacon Hill Park in Victoria, B.C., a close-up of fleet manoeuvres and well-orchestrated entertainment in action. Above, the fleet, led by the R.C.N.V. cruiser, H.M.C.S. Ontario, turns into the close harbor. During these manoeuvres Royal Canadian navy frogmen simulated an attack on a mock radar installation on the beach.—Central Press Canadian.

EGYPT'S NEW STRONGMAN, Om Mohammed Naguib Bey, and Premier Aly Maher Fawzi (left), escorted by soldiers and civilians, confer at Maher's office in Alexandria, Egypt, after the premier delivered an ultimatum to King Farouk, ordering him to abdicate and clear the country within six hours. Maher said Farouk abdicated "according to the will of the people." A few hours after the ultimatum, was delivered King Farouk and his family sailed aboard his yacht as he fled to Italy.

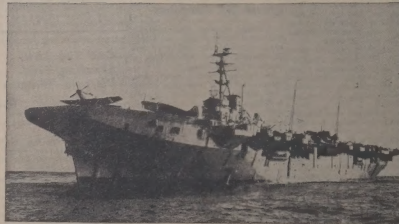

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT, JR., is considered a likely candidate for the vice-presidency if Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson is elected.

SWEDISH STAMP—Israel will issue these stamps in September to mark the Jewish New Year.

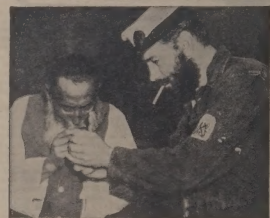

R.C.A.F.-U.S.A.F. EXERCISE ENDS WITH BOMBER ATTACK—Ending Exercise Signpost, pilots of the R.C.A.F.'s City of London Auxiliary squadron stationed at Rockcliffe, Ottawa, scramble for their Mustang fighter planes to intercept a squadron of hostile bombers landing for hydro developments in the Laurentian mountains. The exercise was a training scheme jointly planned and controlled by the Air Defence Commands of the R.C.A.F. and U.S. Air Force and employed Lancaster bombers, jet planes and Mustangs and thousands of military and civil defence personnel.—Central Press Canadian.

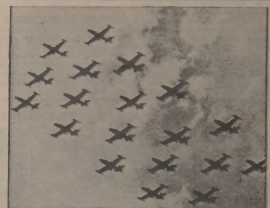

H.M.C.S. MAGNIFICENT DESPATCHED TO SUZ CANAL—Among the flotilla of Commonwealth ships detailed to the Blue canal is the Canadian aircraft carrier Magnificent. She was on courtesy call at Istanbul, Turkey, when ordered to speed to Egypt following the abdication of King Farouk. The 33,000-ton ship carries a complement of 3,100 officers and men.—Central Press Canadian.

TAKES HIS WEALTH WITH HIM—King Farouk of Egypt has sailed into exile, but not into poverty. He is reported to have $200,000,000 in gold and foreign investments which will be readily available if he decides to settle in North or South America. With him on the yacht Matrousa are his wife, three daughters by his first marriage, and infant son King Ahmed Fouad II.—Central Press Canadian.

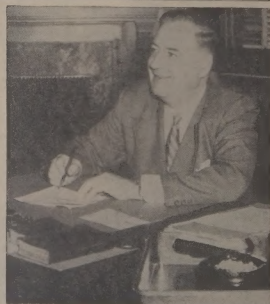

SOMETHING IN COMMON—WIDOWS—Fifty Officer Howard Bailey of Saint John, N.B., and Halifax, shows the same respect for this Korean's widows as he would for his own, as he carefully gives the elderly village a light. P.O. Bailey, medical assistant on board H.M.C.S. Nooka, was one of a party from the Canadian destroyer that visited a Korean island village during a patrol.—Central Press Canadian.

JEIS COMPLETE 9,000-MILE FLIGHT—In perfect formation 13 U.S. Thunderbolts are pictured just before landing at Japan's Yokota air base, completing a 9,000-mile flight from Turner Air Force base at Albany, Ga. They refueled in mid-air while flying to San Francisco and again when they made their non-stop flight from California to Honolulu in five hours, 26 minutes.—Central Press Canadian.

POPE BLESSES 5,000 YOUNG VISITORS—Pope Pius XII received some 5,000 children from eight to 16 years of age recently. The children—youngest members of the Italian Catholic Action society—met with the Pope in the throne hall of St. Peter's during a massed general audience. His Holiness chatted with the youngsters, who came dressed in regional costumes. In this photo the Pope blesses the young race of a boy dressed in traditional Sardinian clothes.—Central Press Canadian.

HANDLES 'BILLIONS—George H. Brown, newly appointed treasurer of the C.N.R., annually handles far more money than the average thousand men have any hope of seeing in their lifetime. In his care are Canadian biggest payrolls—$30,000,000—and company transactions that run to about a billion and a quarter a year. He estimates that in his life he's handled 11 or 12 billion. But he's a lot like the other men—he says Mrs. Brown handles the family budget.

FIRST AID

First Aid is just what the two words imply, namely the earliest possible intelligent aid or help given to the victim of an accident or sudden illness. This aid is usually of a temporary nature only, to be given at once, at the scene of the accident or sudden illness and before a doctor is available to assume responsibility.

Injuries To The Head And Spine

The civilization of which we are a part, with modern methods of transportation has brought with it a new increasing number of accidents with injuries to the head and spine. These injuries are widely distributed and the first aid must be furnished with the management of these injuries and methods of transportation if these victims are to reach a doctor satisfactory condition. Every one should be necessary not to people not properly trained in first aid and transportation.

INJURIES TO THE HEAD

1. Concussion. The application of force to the head will produce a shaking up or vibration of the brain. This will vary in degree depending on the severity of the blow and the nature of the object striking the head. A small object, such as a hammer, may cause force in fracturing the skull and there may be little concussion. A large object, such as a baseball, may not fracture the skull but may profoundly shake and damage the brain even to the extent of causing loss of consciousness.

Injury to the brain with loss of consciousness is known as concussion. The depth and duration of the unconsciousness depend directly upon the severity of the concussion.

2. Skull Fracture Principles. All victims who have sustained an injury to the head should be treated under the care of a doctor if they have been or are in danger of unconsciousness.

3. Have a scalp laceration or contusion. Have bleeding from the nose, mouth or ears.

A brief note should accompany them giving the following information to the doctor:

1. Whether or not unconsciousness was lost, and if not, the presence or absence of confusion.

2. If normal movement was present in the arms and legs.

3. The pupils of the eyes were equal or unequal in size.

4. The head position. The single, most important first aid procedure for persons with a head injury is maintenance of undisturbed breathing. This is accomplished by immediately placing the victim in the semi-prone position. This position permits blood, vomitus and secretions to run out of the mouth and nose and, if the victim is unconscious, will prevent the jaw and tongue from falling back and obstructing breathing. For purposes of transportation, they must be placed on the stretcher in the semi-prone position.

5. Moving the injured victim. A victim may be transported by ambulance or by stretcher. An injured person who is deeply unconscious or who is complaining of pain in the neck or back should be treated by the use of a stretcher and stretcher.

6. Moving the victim. These victims should be moved by a stretcher from one place to another.

will apply traction to the head and feet to prevent additional any movement. This is done by pulling on the neck. If four people are not available, deeply unconscious victims must at once be placed in the semi-prone position to prevent great danger of suffocation from obstruction of the breathing or the aspiration of blood or vomitus into the lungs.

(c) Scalp lacerations. 1. Lacerations. These should always be treated by the person because of the danger of infection. The scalp is very vascular and bleeding may be profuse. This can always be controlled by placing a thick sterile or clean pad over the wound and applying a firm pressure bandage. Nothing more should be done and particularly no attempt should be made to clean the wound, and no antiseptic should be applied by anyone but a doctor.

2. Contusions. These require no first aid measures, but there may be some swelling and bruising of the skull. These victims should be treated by the person because of the danger of infection. The scalp is very vascular and bleeding may be profuse. This can always be controlled by placing a thick sterile or clean pad over the wound and applying a firm pressure bandage. Nothing more should be done and particularly no attempt should be made to clean the wound, and no antiseptic should be applied by anyone but a doctor.

3. Fractures of the skull. These may or may not signify any injury to the brain. They are more serious if:

(1) The fracture enters the nasal cavity or ear cavity.

(2) The skull is driven in (depressed).

(3) The fracture enters the nasal cavity or ear cavity.

Good News for Hunters

Western Provinces To Have Longer Duck Hunting Season

OTTAWA.—Good news for hunters and farmers in western Canada was contained in annual regulations fixing 1933 duck-hunting seasons for all provinces. Because of improved weather conditions in western Canada, open seasons will be extended 40 minutes in Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. The boy limit will be increased in Saskatchewan.

For the first time, farmers will be allowed to obtain permits to carry ducks and other migratory birds damaging their crops. It has been proved that if waterfowl are kept away from fields at their first approach they will tend to leave their fields alone, but if they are allowed to settle and eat grain for a day or two it is almost impossible to scare them away from the fields.

In the central and eastern provinces the length of open seasons and the bag limit remains unchanged. In the west, however, the length of open seasons and the bag limit remains unchanged. In the west, however, the length of open seasons and the bag limit remains unchanged.

World Happenings

Briefly Told

The Seventh Regular Session of the United Nations General Assembly will open at O.N. Headquarters on October 14, instead of September 14, it was announced.

An analysis of 1931 automobile accidents in Lincoln, Nebraska, showed that nothing to back up was cracked about drivers. It showed 7,603 men involved in traffic accidents, compared to 1,200 women.

Alfred H. 23, stole a kiss from a pretty bride in a London park. Judge Sir Herbert Dunlop fined him 40 shillings and suggested next time he be married in a park.

An ambitious plan to train teachers, the government of East Pakistan will set up ten new normal schools for a total of fourteen. It is expected that about 1,400 teachers will be trained in the next year.

An offer by the Hilton hotels group of the United States to buy London's Great Grosvenor House has been rejected. Directors said it would not be in the national interest to turn over the management to a United States company.

Her Harold Scott, London's police commissioner, has postponed his retirement until after the coronation next year. He has planned to leave Scotland Yard on his 65th birthday in December, but will stay on for what he considers the "higest honor."
